MARTIN LUTHER KING HIGH SCHOOL NJ ROTC CHANGE OF COMMAND

WOLVES PRIDE

President Kathy Allavie, were among the many guests that braved the triple-digit heat to witness the ceremony.

“Leadership is the capacity to translate vision into reality.”

-Warren G. Bennis-

"I Relieve you Sir!" cadet/Commanding Officer Bijan Sharifi-Tabesh, spoke those words to Cadet/ Commander Josh Smith during their Change of Command ceremony Thursday. The ceremony was held after school in the G-Quad at King high. Council member Paul Davis (Ward 4), RUSD School Board President Tom Hunt and past

SEPTEMBER CADET OF THE MONTH

LCDR Thompson and Chief Mesias present cadet Josh Candelario with the September Cadet of the Month certificate. Cadet Candelario also was meritoriously promoted to the rank of Seamen Apprentice. Bravo Zulu!!

NEPTUNE OLYMPICS 2011

c/LTJG Ashley Thompson

This year cadets competed against ROTC units from Coronado, Troy, Santiago, and many other schools down at Coronado Beach in the Neptune Olympics. Cadets competed against the other units in several events including paddle board, group swim, kayak, zodiac, and the 3-person surf board swim. Command Master Chief Darren Thompson, I2, says "You can overcome anything with teamwork." By competing in Neptune Olympics, cadets learn many valuable skills such as leadership, teamwork, sportsmanship, and (most importantly) how to have fun. This year our unit was the only unit to do the FOD (Foreign object debris) walk, which is where cadets walk along the beach and pick up the trash after Neptune Olympics. Let's keep up the good work, cadets!

MIRAMAR AIR SHOW

c/LTJG Ashley Thompson

Every year cadets travel down to MCAS Miramar to see the annual air show and the famous Blue Angels. While there, cadets get the chance to explore a Marine base and learn many things that they may not normally get to see. Cadets are able to enter many military vehicles and talk to military personnel. There are so many things for cadets to do while down there. From the flight deck, cadets are able to view all the different kinds of aircraft that our military uses today. Cadets are also able to watch some of the procedures that our military does. At the end of the day, cadets are able to watch the formation of the Blue Angels. It's always a pleasure traveling to Miramar to learn more about the military that serves us.

"Knowing is not enough; we must apply. Willing is not enough; we must do."

Wolfgang von Goethe

ADOPT-A-STREET SEPTEMBER 2011

c/LTJG Ashley Thompson

In an effort to keep our community clean our ROTC unit has adopted the street Krameria (that crosses Wood Road). According to cadet Maribel Saucedo, "It was great! This was the biggest turnout we've had." We also had non-cadets helping our cadets clean up the street. Cadets were able to do it in record timing this year. Cadets always have, and always will, continue to do an excellent job taking care of Krameria.

The Navy has always held its traditions and ceremonies as events of great importance. Within the organization of NJROTC, traditions are also upheld and occasionally are even created. This year in our program we are starting to gather a group of spirited cadets to cheer for and motivate our football team at all of our home games. This 'Spirit Team' were easily recognized by their representative Navy and Gold attire and their determined attitude towards seeing our team succeed. For each touchdown, the cadets plan on showing their support for the team by participating in pushups or some similar physical activity. At this point, our senior instructor, Lieutenant Commander Thompson, would like to see more cadets join the group in the hopes that the idea will catch and become a long lasting tradition of King High School.

Honor, Courage, Commitment

Since our Unit's Commissioning in August 2000, the Instructors and cadets have striven to live up to the Navy's Core Values of "Honor, Courage, and Commitment." Martin Luther King High School Navy JROTC is a program which emphasizes citizenship and leadership development. Our program is led by two dedicated and committed professionals who promote patriotism, high school completion, academic excellence, and respect for self and authority--we prepare students for Life! We are driven to stay actively involved in our school and community, and are committed to living up to the highest standards of character and ethical values to bring positive recognition to our community, school district, school, and unit.
